

MISS ROSEBERRY, the handsome and talented young star, assumed the role of Viola, and it is to be said that her interpretation of the character has never been witnessed in this city. It is something over three years ago since this young lady made her first appearance upon the stage at a benefit tendered by the Grand Opera House, Cincinnati. Since that event she has assiduously applied herself to studying for the stage, and has since that time been a remarkably clever performer, and one that is well known to her future, should persist in her present efforts toward improvement. She undoubtedly gives evidence of great natural talent, and the day is not far distant when she may be classed among the first of English speaking actresses.

Her last evening her conception of Viola was admirable, and evinced close study of the meaning and intent of the author, and she was frequently applauded. Her dressing of the part was neat, full and extremely pretty.

Miss Roseberry's support was of unusual excellence. Mr. Frederick Paulding's Duke Orsino was most creditable performance, and the play was well received by the audience. Mr. Paulding remains one of the most popular of actors.

Miss Josephine Reilly, supported by Mr. Frederick Paulding, will appear in "Twelfth Night" at the Opera House Saturday evening. Elegant souvenirs will be presented to every lady in the audience. Seats now on sale at Harry Taylor's.

The depredations by hogs in this city have been carried on to such an extent that the people who have suffered by them have, in sheer desperation, kicked them, cuffed them, scolded them, broken their snouts, and in some cases have shot them to be rid of the annoyance. They invade stores, enter dwellings, even sometimes going to the second story, destroy gardens, break down fences and gates, upset people in the streets, attack children, and do many other things as bad if not worse, and yet there is no remedy for the evil. The hogs are practically under the protection of the City Council, which, with a few honorable exceptions, would do more for the welfare of a hog than it would for the comfort of a good citizen. At a time when the best part of the population demanded that this filthy and unbearable nuisance should be abolished, the board, with a wholesome fear of their hog-breeding constituents, submitted the question to the vote of the people, many of whom were directly interested in raising pigs for profit in the city. These hog-breeders, together with such others as they could intimidate into voting for the hog or refusing to vote against it, the Council expected would win the day and establish the hog as a permanent fixture, which the Council as a body, wanted, but lacked the courage to do. It now remains for the citizens who have a pride in the town and wish to see it made attractive, cleanly, and a healthful place of residence, to break up this little plan by going to the polls and voting against giving over the town to the hogs. There are enough people in the city who think this way to vote the hog out if they will have the courage to vote as they think; but if they allow themselves to be over-riden by the hog-breeders, then there the matter ends, and there is no hope of making the change in our affairs that all good citizens should earnestly desire. The opportunity will be lost through the indifference or cowardice of those who had it in their power to bring such a change about. If the hogs are permitted to remain in the city on the ground that certain citizens are earning a living by keeping them, on the same principle it would be well to license gambling halls and ill-fame rookeries, because certain other citizens prefer to make a livelihood by their means. One is as much entitled to protection as the other. We ask every reader of the BULLETIN to consider the question carefully, and in January to aid by his vote this movement toward reform.

Mr. John Rudy, at the solicitation of his friends, and rather against his own inclination, has consented to become a candidate to represent the Fifth Ward in the Council. He is a clear-headed, sensible man of liberal views, and one of the best men in the community where he lives. The people in that ward are fortunate in their selection.

A company composed of the following named gentlemen, Messrs. Thos. Wells, Charles H. White, G. S. Judd, W. W. Ball and Ed. Myall, have bought the tract of land in Chester west of the residence of Mr. H. H. Collins. They will divide it into town lots and will put it immediately on the market at reasonable prices. These lots are very desirable for building purposes.

The Commercial Gazette of the 15th says: Mr. C. B. Childs, Civil Engineer and general paymaster of the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railroad, was in the city yesterday. He states that the road is finished between Huntington and Ashland, and nearly completed between the latter city and Maysville, and that there are several hundred men now at work on the road between Newport and Ashland, and that the road will be completed to this city by next fall.

This M. E. Church was comfortably filled yesterday at noon, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice McVaine to Mr. T. H. Seaton, of Texas. Rev. Dr. Henderson officiated and performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was dressed in a handsome drab traveling suit and the groom in the usual black, and both looked as happy as a bride and groom ought on such an occasion. After the congratulations of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for Parsons, Kansas, on a visit to the mother of Mr. Seaton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this community.

Mrs. Sarah Belle Waller, wife of Hon. Henry Waller, of Chicago, died suddenly of apoplexy, on the 13th inst. She was a native of this city and was a sister of Mrs. Judith F. Marshall, of Louisville. The Courier-Journal says:

Mrs. Waller was a native of Maysville, born there in 1822, of a historic family. She was a daughter of John T. Lang, one of its prominent business men, and a great daughter of Col. John T. Lang, who was killed in Gen. Charles Scott's expedition in 1791 against the Indian towns on the Wabash, and commanded the first battalion of mounted riflemen at the battle of the Tipton, Ohio, 1811. Her ancestors accompanied Lord Fairfax from England when he came over to colonize his grant in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, and which comprised the vast tract of country between the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers, and stretching across the Allegheny mountains.

Mrs. Waller removed about 1828 to Chicago, and has been one of the leading members of that brilliant and elegant set of people from all over the south who have for her since the late times. During the war that very brilliancy and influence enabled her to be especially useful and successful in acts of thoughtfulness and liberality, and sympathy for the soldiers of the Lost Cause whom the misfortune of war cast into prison at Camp Douglas, near Chicago. Many mothers and fathers with every memory for her gentle ministrations to their sick and wounded sons, in that far-away scene of suffering and privation, and many brave men called her blessed for the beautiful proofs she gave them of sympathy and loving kindness in hours of trial and separation from home and loved ones. Her husband and nine of her ten children survive with every memory for her. Seven of them are around the family home; one of them is the wife of Rev. Garrison Hunter, D. D., of Georgetown, Ky., and the second son is Rev. Maurice Waller, of Manchester, U.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick has arrived in the city, and will lecture at the prayer meeting this evening in the Third street Presbyterian Church, and will preach there next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

This marriage of Miss Mamie R. Pearce to Mr. John W. Dodd, of Louisville, will be solemnized at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Pearce, on Thursday morning at half-past ten o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McKee, uncle of the groom, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd will leave the same day on an eastern trip.

At a regular meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, held at their lodge room last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—E. L. Worthington.
S. W.—J. D. Kehoe.
J. W.—L. P. Deitrich.
Treasurer—Geo. H. Helser.
Secretary—Jas. H. Collins.
S. and J. W.—J. H. Robinson.

Mr. John Rudy, at the solicitation of his friends, and rather against his own inclination, has consented to become a candidate to represent the Fifth Ward in the Council. He is a clear-headed, sensible man of liberal views, and one of the best men in the community where he lives. The people in that ward are fortunate in their selection.

A company composed of the following named gentlemen, Messrs. Thos. Wells, Charles H. White, G. S. Judd, W. W. Ball and Ed. Myall, have bought the tract of land in Chester west of the residence of Mr. H. H. Collins. They will divide it into town lots and will put it immediately on the market at reasonable prices. These lots are very desirable for building purposes.

The Commercial Gazette of the 15th says: Mr. C. B. Childs, Civil Engineer and general paymaster of the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railroad, was in the city yesterday. He states that the road is finished between Huntington and Ashland, and nearly completed between the latter city and Maysville, and that there are several hundred men now at work on the road between Newport and Ashland, and that the road will be completed to this city by next fall.

This M. E. Church was comfortably filled yesterday at noon, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice McVaine to Mr. T. H. Seaton, of Texas. Rev. Dr. Henderson officiated and performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was dressed in a handsome drab traveling suit and the groom in the usual black, and both looked as happy as a bride and groom ought on such an occasion. After the congratulations of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for Parsons, Kansas, on a visit to the mother of Mr. Seaton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this community.

Mrs. Sarah Belle Waller, wife of Hon. Henry Waller, of Chicago, died suddenly of apoplexy, on the 13th inst. She was a native of this city and was a sister of Mrs. Judith F. Marshall, of Louisville. The Courier-Journal says:

Mrs. Waller was a native of Maysville, born there in 1822, of a historic family. She was a daughter of John T. Lang, one of its prominent business men, and a great daughter of Col. John T. Lang, who was killed in Gen. Charles Scott's expedition in 1791 against the Indian towns on the Wabash, and commanded the first battalion of mounted riflemen at the battle of the Tipton, Ohio, 1811. Her ancestors accompanied Lord Fairfax from England when he came over to colonize his grant in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, and which comprised the vast tract of country between the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers, and stretching across the Allegheny mountains.

Mrs. Waller removed about 1828 to Chicago, and has been one of the leading members of that brilliant and elegant set of people from all over the south who have for her since the late times. During the war that very brilliancy and influence enabled her to be especially useful and successful in acts of thoughtfulness and liberality, and sympathy for the soldiers of the Lost Cause whom the misfortune of war cast into prison at Camp Douglas, near Chicago. Many mothers and fathers with every memory for her gentle ministrations to their sick and wounded sons, in that far-away scene of suffering and privation, and many brave men called her blessed for the beautiful proofs she gave them of sympathy and loving kindness in hours of trial and separation from home and loved ones. Her husband and nine of her ten children survive with every memory for her. Seven of them are around the family home; one of them is the wife of Rev. Garrison Hunter, D. D., of Georgetown, Ky., and the second son is Rev. Maurice Waller, of Manchester, U.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick has arrived in the city, and will lecture at the prayer meeting this evening in the Third street Presbyterian Church, and will preach there next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

This marriage of Miss Mamie R. Pearce to Mr. John W. Dodd, of Louisville, will be solemnized at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Pearce, on Thursday morning at half-past ten o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McKee, uncle of the groom, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd will leave the same day on an eastern trip.

At a regular meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, held at their lodge room last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—E. L. Worthington.
S. W.—J. D. Kehoe.
J. W.—L. P. Deitrich.
Treasurer—Geo. H. Helser.
Secretary—Jas. H. Collins.
S. and J. W.—J. H. Robinson.

Mr. John Rudy, at the solicitation of his friends, and rather against his own inclination, has consented to become a candidate to represent the Fifth Ward in the Council. He is a clear-headed, sensible man of liberal views, and one of the best men in the community where he lives. The people in that ward are fortunate in their selection.

A company composed of the following named gentlemen, Messrs. Thos. Wells, Charles H. White, G. S. Judd, W. W. Ball and Ed. Myall, have bought the tract of land in Chester west of the residence of Mr. H. H. Collins. They will divide it into town lots and will put it immediately on the market at reasonable prices. These lots are very desirable for building purposes.

The Commercial Gazette of the 15th says: Mr. C. B. Childs, Civil Engineer and general paymaster of the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railroad, was in the city yesterday. He states that the road is finished between Huntington and Ashland, and nearly completed between the latter city and Maysville, and that there are several hundred men now at work on the road between Newport and Ashland, and that the road will be completed to this city by next fall.

This M. E. Church was comfortably filled yesterday at noon, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice McVaine to Mr. T. H. Seaton, of Texas. Rev. Dr. Henderson officiated and performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was dressed in a handsome drab traveling suit and the groom in the usual black, and both looked as happy as a bride and groom ought on such an occasion. After the congratulations of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for Parsons, Kansas, on a visit to the mother of Mr. Seaton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this community.

Mrs. Sarah Belle Waller, wife of Hon. Henry Waller, of Chicago, died suddenly of apoplexy, on the 13th inst. She was a native of this city and was a sister of Mrs. Judith F. Marshall, of Louisville. The Courier-Journal says:

Mrs. Waller was a native of Maysville, born there in 1822, of a historic family. She was a daughter of John T. Lang, one of its prominent business men, and a great daughter of Col. John T. Lang, who was killed in Gen. Charles Scott's expedition in 1791 against the Indian towns on the Wabash, and commanded the first battalion of mounted riflemen at the battle of the Tipton, Ohio, 1811. Her ancestors accompanied Lord Fairfax from England when he came over to colonize his grant in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, and which comprised the vast tract of country between the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers, and stretching across the Allegheny mountains.

Mrs. Waller removed about 1828 to Chicago, and has been one of the leading members of that brilliant and elegant set of people from all over the south who have for her since the late times. During the war that very brilliancy and influence enabled her to be especially useful and successful in acts of thoughtfulness and liberality, and sympathy for the soldiers of the Lost Cause whom the misfortune of war cast into prison at Camp Douglas, near Chicago. Many mothers and fathers with every memory for her gentle ministrations to their sick and wounded sons, in that far-away scene of suffering and privation, and many brave men called her blessed for the beautiful proofs she gave them of sympathy and loving kindness in hours of trial and separation from home and loved ones. Her husband and nine of her ten children survive with every memory for her. Seven of them are around the family home; one of them is the wife of Rev. Garrison Hunter, D. D., of Georgetown, Ky., and the second son is Rev. Maurice Waller, of Manchester, U.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick has arrived in the city, and will lecture at the prayer meeting this evening in the Third street Presbyterian Church, and will preach there next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

This marriage of Miss Mamie R. Pearce to Mr. John W. Dodd, of Louisville, will be solemnized at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Pearce, on Thursday morning at half-past ten o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McKee, uncle of the groom, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd will leave the same day on an eastern trip.

At a regular meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, held at their lodge room last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—E. L. Worthington.
S. W.—J. D. Kehoe.
J. W.—L. P. Deitrich.
Treasurer—Geo. H. Helser.
Secretary—Jas. H. Collins.
S. and J. W.—J. H. Robinson.

Mr. John Rudy, at the solicitation of his friends, and rather against his own inclination, has consented to become a candidate to represent the Fifth Ward in the Council. He is a clear-headed, sensible man of liberal views, and one of the best men in the community where he lives. The people in that ward are fortunate in their selection.

A company composed of the following named gentlemen, Messrs. Thos. Wells, Charles H. White, G. S. Judd, W. W. Ball and Ed. Myall, have bought the tract of land in Chester west of the residence of Mr. H. H. Collins. They will divide it into town lots and will put it immediately on the market at reasonable prices. These lots are very desirable for building purposes.

The Commercial Gazette of the 15th says: Mr. C. B. Childs, Civil Engineer and general paymaster of the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railroad, was in the city yesterday. He states that the road is finished between Huntington and Ashland, and nearly completed between the latter city and Maysville, and that there are several hundred men now at work on the road between Newport and Ashland, and that the road will be completed to this city by next fall.

This M. E. Church was comfortably filled yesterday at noon, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice McVaine to Mr. T. H. Seaton, of Texas. Rev. Dr. Henderson officiated and performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was dressed in a handsome drab traveling suit and the groom in the usual black, and both looked as happy as a bride and groom ought on such an occasion. After the congratulations of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for Parsons, Kansas, on a visit to the mother of Mr. Seaton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this community.

Mrs. Sarah Belle Waller, wife of Hon. Henry Waller, of Chicago, died suddenly of apoplexy, on the 13th inst. She was a native of this city and was a sister of Mrs. Judith F. Marshall, of Louisville. The Courier-Journal says:

Mrs. Waller was a native of Maysville, born there in 1822, of a historic family. She was a daughter of John T. Lang, one of its prominent business men, and a great daughter of Col. John T. Lang, who was killed in Gen. Charles Scott's expedition in 1791 against the Indian towns on the Wabash, and commanded the first battalion of mounted riflemen at the battle of the Tipton, Ohio, 1811. Her ancestors accompanied Lord Fairfax from England when he came over to colonize his grant in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, and which comprised the vast tract of country between the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers, and stretching across the Allegheny mountains.

Mrs. Waller removed about 1828 to Chicago, and has been one of the leading members of that brilliant and elegant set of people from all over the south who have for her since the late times. During the war that very brilliancy and influence enabled her to be especially useful and successful in acts of thoughtfulness and liberality, and sympathy for the soldiers of the Lost Cause whom the misfortune of war cast into prison at Camp Douglas, near Chicago. Many mothers and fathers with every memory for her gentle ministrations to their sick and wounded sons, in that far-away scene of suffering and privation, and many brave men called her blessed for the beautiful proofs she gave them of sympathy and loving kindness in hours of trial and separation from home and loved ones. Her husband and nine of her ten children survive with every memory for her. Seven of them are around the family home; one of them is the wife of Rev. Garrison Hunter, D. D., of Georgetown, Ky., and the second son is Rev. Maurice Waller, of Manchester, U.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick has arrived in the city, and will lecture at the prayer meeting this evening in the Third street Presbyterian Church, and will preach there next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

This marriage of Miss Mamie R. Pearce to Mr. John W. Dodd, of Louisville, will be solemnized at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Pearce, on Thursday morning at half-past ten o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McKee, uncle of the groom, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd will leave the same day on an eastern trip.

At a regular meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, held at their lodge room last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—E. L. Worthington.
S. W.—J. D. Kehoe.
J. W.—L. P. Deitrich.
Treasurer—Geo. H. Helser.
Secretary—Jas. H. Collins.
S. and J. W.—J. H. Robinson.

Mr. John Rudy, at the solicitation of his friends, and rather against his own inclination, has consented to become a candidate to represent the Fifth Ward in the Council. He is a clear-headed, sensible man of liberal views, and one of the best men in the community where he lives. The people in that ward are fortunate in their selection.

A company composed of the following named gentlemen, Messrs. Thos. Wells, Charles H. White, G. S. Judd, W. W. Ball and Ed. Myall, have bought the tract of land in Chester west of the residence of Mr. H. H. Collins. They will divide it into town lots and will put it immediately on the market at reasonable prices. These lots are very desirable for building purposes.

The Commercial Gazette of the 15th says: Mr. C. B. Childs, Civil Engineer and general paymaster of the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railroad, was in the city yesterday. He states that the road is finished between Huntington and Ashland, and nearly completed between the latter city and Maysville, and that there are several hundred men now at work on the road between Newport and Ashland, and that the road will be completed to this city by next fall.

This M. E. Church was comfortably filled yesterday at noon, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice McVaine to Mr. T. H. Seaton, of Texas. Rev. Dr. Henderson officiated and performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was dressed in a handsome drab traveling suit and the groom in the usual black, and both looked as happy as a bride and groom ought on such an occasion. After the congratulations of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for Parsons, Kansas, on a visit to the mother of Mr. Seaton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this community.

Mrs. Sarah Belle Waller, wife of Hon. Henry Waller, of Chicago, died suddenly of apoplexy, on the 13th inst. She was a native of this city and was a sister of Mrs. Judith F. Marshall, of Louisville. The Courier-Journal says:

Mrs. Waller was a native of Maysville, born there in 1822, of a historic family. She was a daughter of John T. Lang, one of its prominent business men, and a great daughter of Col. John T. Lang, who was killed in Gen. Charles Scott's expedition in 1791 against the Indian towns on the Wabash, and commanded the first battalion of mounted riflemen at the battle of the Tipton, Ohio, 1811. Her ancestors accompanied Lord Fairfax from England when he came over to colonize his grant in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, and which comprised the vast tract of country between the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers, and stretching across the Allegheny mountains.

Mrs. Waller removed about 1828 to Chicago, and has been one of the leading members of that brilliant and elegant set of people from all over the south who have for her since the late times. During the war that very brilliancy and influence enabled her to be especially useful and successful in acts of thoughtfulness and liberality, and sympathy for the soldiers of the Lost Cause whom the misfortune of war cast into prison at Camp Douglas, near Chicago. Many mothers and fathers with every memory for her gentle ministrations to their sick and wounded sons, in that far-away scene of suffering and privation, and many brave men called her blessed for the beautiful proofs she gave them of sympathy and loving kindness in hours of trial and separation from home and loved ones. Her husband and nine of her ten children survive with every memory for her. Seven of them are around the family home; one of them is the wife of Rev. Garrison Hunter, D. D., of Georgetown, Ky., and the second son is Rev. Maurice Waller, of Manchester, U.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick has arrived in the city, and will lecture at the prayer meeting this evening in the Third street Presbyterian Church, and will preach there next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

This marriage of Miss Mamie R. Pearce to Mr. John W. Dodd, of Louisville, will be solemnized at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Pearce, on Thursday morning at half-past ten o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McKee, uncle of the groom, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd will leave the same day on an eastern trip.

At a regular meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, held at their lodge room last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—E. L. Worthington.
S. W.—J. D. Kehoe.
J. W.—L. P. Deitrich.
Treasurer—Geo. H. Helser.
Secretary—Jas. H. Collins.
S. and J. W.—J. H. Robinson.

Mr. John Rudy, at the solicitation of his friends, and rather against his own inclination, has consented to become a candidate to represent the Fifth Ward in the Council. He is a clear-headed, sensible man of liberal views, and one of the best men in the community where he lives. The people in that ward are fortunate in their selection.

A company composed of the following named gentlemen, Messrs. Thos. Wells, Charles H. White, G. S. Judd, W. W. Ball and Ed. Myall, have bought the tract of land in Chester west of the residence of Mr. H. H. Collins. They will divide it into town lots and will put it immediately on the market at reasonable prices. These lots are very desirable for building purposes.

The Commercial Gazette of the 15th says: Mr. C. B. Childs, Civil Engineer and general paymaster of the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railroad, was in the city yesterday. He states that the road is finished between Huntington and Ashland, and nearly completed between the latter city and Maysville, and that there are several hundred men now at work on the road between Newport and Ashland, and that the road will be completed to this city by next fall.

This M. E. Church was comfortably filled yesterday at noon, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice McVaine to Mr. T. H. Seaton, of Texas. Rev. Dr. Henderson officiated and performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was dressed in a handsome drab traveling suit and the groom in the usual black, and both looked as happy as a bride and groom ought on such an occasion. After the congratulations of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for Parsons, Kansas, on a visit to the mother of Mr. Seaton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this community.

Mrs. Sarah Belle Waller, wife of Hon. Henry Waller, of Chicago, died suddenly of apoplexy, on the 13th inst. She was a native of this city and was a sister of Mrs. Judith F. Marshall, of Louisville. The Courier-Journal says:

Mrs. Waller was a native of Maysville, born there in 1822, of a historic family. She was a daughter of John T. Lang, one of its prominent business men, and a great daughter of Col. John T. Lang, who was killed in Gen. Charles Scott's expedition in 1791 against the Indian towns on the Wabash, and commanded the first battalion of mounted riflemen at the battle of the Tipton, Ohio, 1811. Her ancestors accompanied Lord Fairfax from England when he came over to colonize his grant in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, and which comprised the vast tract of country between the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers, and stretching across the Allegheny mountains.

Mrs. Waller removed about 1828 to Chicago, and has been one of the leading members of that brilliant and elegant set of people from all over the south who have for her since the late times. During the war that very brilliancy and influence enabled her to be especially useful and successful in acts of thoughtfulness and liberality, and sympathy for the soldiers of the Lost Cause whom the misfortune of war cast into prison at Camp Douglas, near Chicago. Many mothers and fathers with every memory for her gentle ministrations to their sick and wounded sons, in that far-away scene of suffering and privation, and many brave men called her blessed for the beautiful proofs she gave them of sympathy and loving kindness in hours of trial and separation from home and loved ones. Her husband and nine of her ten children survive with every memory for her. Seven of them are around the family home; one of them is the wife of Rev. Garrison Hunter, D. D., of Georgetown, Ky., and the second son is Rev. Maurice Waller, of Manchester, U.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick has arrived in the city, and will lecture at the prayer meeting this evening in the Third street Presbyterian Church, and will preach there next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

This marriage of Miss Mamie R. Pearce to Mr. John W. Dodd, of Louisville, will be solemnized at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Pearce, on Thursday morning at half-past ten o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McKee, uncle of the groom, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd will leave the same day on an eastern trip.

At a regular meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, held at their lodge room last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—E. L. Worthington.
S. W.—J. D. Kehoe.
J. W.—L. P. Deitrich.
Treasurer—Geo. H. Helser.
Secretary—Jas. H. Collins.
S. and J. W.—J. H. Robinson.

Mr. John Rudy, at the solicitation of his friends, and rather against his own inclination, has consented to become a candidate to represent the Fifth Ward in the Council. He is a clear-headed, sensible man of liberal views, and one of the best men in the community where he lives. The people in that ward are fortunate in their selection.

A company composed of the following named gentlemen, Messrs. Thos. Wells, Charles H. White, G. S. Judd, W. W. Ball and Ed. Myall, have bought the tract of land in Chester west of the residence of Mr. H. H. Collins. They will divide it into town lots and will put it immediately on the market at reasonable prices. These lots are very desirable for building purposes.

The Commercial Gazette of the 15th says: Mr. C. B. Childs, Civil Engineer and general paymaster of the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railroad, was in the city yesterday. He states that the road is finished between Huntington and Ashland, and nearly completed between the latter city and Maysville, and that there are several hundred men now at work on the road between Newport and Ashland, and that the road will be completed to this city by next fall.

This M. E. Church was comfortably filled yesterday at noon, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice McVaine to Mr. T. H. Seaton, of Texas. Rev. Dr. Henderson officiated and performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was dressed in a handsome drab traveling suit and the groom in the usual black, and both looked as happy as a bride and groom ought on such an occasion. After the congratulations of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for Parsons, Kansas, on a visit to the mother of Mr. Seaton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this community.

Mrs. Sarah Belle Waller, wife of Hon. Henry Waller, of Chicago, died suddenly of apoplexy, on the 13th inst. She was a native of this city and was a sister of Mrs. Judith F. Marshall, of Louisville. The Courier-Journal says:

Mrs. Waller was a native of Maysville, born there in 1822, of a historic family. She was a daughter of John T. Lang, one of its prominent business men, and a great daughter of Col. John T. Lang, who was killed in Gen. Charles Scott's expedition in 1791 against the Indian towns on the Wabash, and commanded the first battalion of mounted riflemen at the battle of the Tipton, Ohio, 1811. Her ancestors accompanied Lord Fairfax from England when he came over to colonize his grant in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, and which comprised the vast tract of country between the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers, and stretching across the Allegheny mountains.

Mrs. Waller removed about 1828 to Chicago, and has been one of the leading members of that brilliant and elegant set of people from all over the south who have for her since the late times. During the war that very brilliancy and influence enabled her to be especially useful and successful in acts of thoughtfulness and liberality, and sympathy for the soldiers of the Lost Cause whom the misfortune of war cast into prison at Camp Douglas, near Chicago. Many mothers and fathers with every memory for her gentle ministrations to their sick and wounded sons, in that far-away scene of suffering and privation, and many brave men called her blessed for the beautiful proofs she gave them of sympathy and loving kindness in hours of trial and separation from home and loved ones. Her husband and nine of her ten children survive with every memory for her. Seven of them are around the family home; one of them is the wife of Rev. Garrison Hunter, D. D., of Georgetown, Ky., and the second son is Rev. Maurice Waller, of Manchester, U.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick has arrived in the city, and will lecture at the prayer meeting this evening in the Third street Presbyterian Church, and will preach there next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

This marriage of Miss Mamie R. Pearce to Mr. John W. Dodd, of Louisville, will be solemnized at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Pearce, on Thursday morning at half-past ten o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McKee, uncle of the groom, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd will leave the same day on an eastern trip.

At a regular meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, held at their lodge room last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—E. L. Worthington.
S. W.—J. D. Kehoe.
J. W.—L. P. Deitrich.
Treasurer—Geo. H. Helser.
Secretary—Jas. H. Collins.
S. and J. W.—J. H. Robinson.

Mr. John Rudy, at the solicitation of his friends, and rather against his own inclination, has consented to become a candidate to represent the Fifth Ward in the Council. He is a clear-headed, sensible man of liberal views, and one of the best men in the community where he lives. The people in that ward are fortunate in their selection.

A company composed of the following named gentlemen, Messrs. Thos. Wells, Charles H. White, G. S. Judd, W. W. Ball and Ed. Myall, have bought the tract of land in Chester west of the residence of Mr. H. H. Collins. They will divide it into town lots and will put it immediately on the market at reasonable prices. These lots are very desirable for building purposes.

The Commercial Gazette of the 15th says: Mr. C. B. Childs, Civil Engineer and general paymaster of the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railroad, was in the city yesterday. He states that the road is finished between Huntington and Ashland, and nearly completed between the latter city and Maysville, and that there are several hundred men now at work on the road between Newport and Ashland, and that the road will be completed to this city by next fall.

This M. E. Church was comfortably filled yesterday at noon, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice McVaine to Mr. T. H. Seaton, of Texas. Rev. Dr. Henderson officiated and performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was dressed in a handsome drab traveling suit and the groom in the usual black, and both looked as happy as a bride and groom ought on such an occasion. After the congratulations of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Seaton left for Parsons, Kansas, on a visit to the mother of Mr. Seaton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this community.

Mrs. Sarah Belle Waller, wife of Hon. Henry Waller, of Chicago, died suddenly of apoplexy, on the 13th inst. She was a native of this city and was a sister of Mrs. Judith F. Marshall, of Louisville. The Courier-Journal says:

Mrs. Waller was a native of Maysville, born there in 1822, of a historic family. She was a daughter of John T. Lang, one of its prominent business men, and a great daughter of Col. John T. Lang, who was killed in Gen. Charles Scott's expedition in 1791 against the Indian towns on the Wabash, and commanded the first battalion of mounted riflemen at the battle of the Tipton, Ohio, 1811. Her ancestors accompanied Lord Fairfax from England when he came over to colonize his grant in Virginia, called the Northern Neck, and which comprised the vast tract of country between the Potomac and Rappahannock rivers, and stretching across the Allegheny mountains.

Mrs. Waller removed about 1828 to Chicago, and has been one of the leading members of that brilliant and elegant set of people from all over the south who have for her since the late times. During the war that very brilliancy and influence enabled her to be especially useful and successful in acts of thoughtfulness and liberality, and sympathy for the soldiers of the Lost Cause whom the misfortune of war cast into prison at Camp Douglas, near Chicago. Many mothers and fathers with every memory for her gentle ministrations to their sick and wounded sons, in that far-away scene of suffering and privation, and many brave men called her blessed for the beautiful proofs she gave them of sympathy and loving kindness in hours of trial and separation from home and loved ones. Her husband and nine of her ten children survive with every memory for her. Seven of them are around the family home; one of them is the wife of Rev. Garrison Hunter, D. D., of Georgetown, Ky., and the second son is Rev. Maurice Waller, of Manchester, U.

Rev. J. T. Hendrick has arrived in the city, and will lecture at the prayer meeting this evening in the Third street Presbyterian Church, and will preach there next Sunday morning and evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

This marriage of Miss Mamie R. Pearce to Mr. John W. Dodd, of Louisville, will be solemnized at the residence of Mr. Charles B. Pearce, on Thursday morning at half-past ten o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McKee, uncle of the groom, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Dodd will leave the same day on an eastern trip.

At a regular meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, held at their lodge room last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—E. L. Wor